Seasalter Youth's Environmental and Upcycling Challenge

The youth have set ourselves a challenge for 2021 and we will be having an exhibition toward the end of the year to display all that we've done. Some of these items will be donated to various charities and some will be sold off to raise money for an environmental project. As part of our challenge we would like to do some upcycling and so initially are asking for you to collect and donate a number of items please:

- Fabric (especially thick or upholstery fabric), old clothes and blankets
- Old bikes
- Old books, magazines and sheet music

Also if anyone has a usable sewing machine that they don't use anymore and are willing to lend to us that would be great.

Please drop these off to the office week days between 9 and 11am. Also if you have any ideas of other things we can upcycle then please email me on georgina.hedley-smith@stalphegeseasalter.org

Seasalter co-ordinator for Ride and Stride event needed

Ride and Stride is a yearly charity event (11th September 2021) that raises money by walking or cycling around churches. Our church benefits from some of the money. A co-ordinator is needed to advertise the dates, encourage people to participate, organise set up on the day and collect sponsorship if needed (there is online option now). If you want to know more please talk to Ann Price.

This week in Planet Protectors the children looked at the story of Elisha feeding 100 people with a bag of bread.

Their challenge is to have 1 or 2 meals this week without meat in them. The average cow releases 250 litres of methane a day, mostly from burping!

If we can reduce our meat intake we can help the planet. Is this something you could try?

Special Announcement

We are delighted to announce the birth of baby Isla Miriam Webb, to Emma and Chris, 7lb 1oz born Tuesday 25th May at 10.30am.

Chuckle Corner - More from BHC

Here is the challenge to all the Church Family please send in your one-liners, an amusing quote, something you observed which made you smile or maybe a line from a book which made you laugh out loud.

Blake got taken home for tea at his friend James' so by around 5pm gets on the phone to Mum "Can I stay with James tonight please?" "You better come home because James' mum is very busy." "Oh ok I will come back by 11-30"!!!

Later the same evening at home he goes out to water the plants and returns soaking wet and Mum mildly annoyed says "You've got water all down your front" "Well I won't need a shower now WILL I?" comes the reply!

There must hundreds better than that so in the words of the great Delia Smith "Lets be 'aving You"

Love to all BHC

Awesome Sunday

I went to church on Sunday. What is so special about that you may ask? It was the first time I had been to church since February 2020. I had been advised to start shielding a good month before lockdown occurred.

I would like to share with you the feelings and emotions that I experienced last Sunday but I would also like to say at this point that this does not take away or distract from how valuable the online services have been for me and many these past 12 plus months and beyond.

Being up and ready for 10.30 am was the first challenge! How lovely it was to have a reason to dress up, I even put lipstick on which I then realised was pretty useless as no one would see my mouth and I ended up with lipstick smeared across the back of my facemask!

On arrival I was surprised at how many cars were in the carpark, in my head there was only going to be a few. Walking in my legs felt as if the bones had been removed and were made of jelly. It was very well organised and I had a flag to wave when the songs were being sung.

The joy of being back in church was overwhelming; I shed tears of joy despite my anxiety levels being through the roof at times. I couldn't sing but I could wave my flag and raise my arm in praise and wonder. There was also a point when every part of my being wanted to get up and lay at the foot of the cross in thanks.

I have tried to find an experience that I can use to liken the experience and for me personally they are that moment that Jesus meets you and you truly become one. Confirmation and several times I have renewed by baptismal vows simply because my faith and strength in God had grown and I needed to publicly acknowledge this.

And finally to see my members of my church family in person despite wearing masks the smiles and the love shone through. It was an awesome Sunday that will stay with me always.

Rosalind

What does it do?

It meets 5 or 6 times a year to make decisions about the life and mission of the church - for example, concerning outreach or youth ministry, or suggestions made by the MLT or members of the church family. It can receive guidance from the wider Anglican Church, and make its opinion known to it. Worship and Bible study is a priority at the DCC. Its members may serve on action groups – Finance, Closer to Home, Safeguarding, the Old Church project. If you want to know more about the DCC, or you think there is an issue which the DCC needs to discuss, simply contact one of the members above.
